

How is DISC Tied to Nurture & Nature Concept?

Our Natural Language is "Nurtured" by our environment at early age.

- It remains our Native Language.
- We can learn other languages.
- But our Native Language always remains our Native Language.
- One cannot change their Native Language even if they wanted to.
- There is no reason to change our Native Language.
- Learn new ones ... Great!

Natural DISC Communication Language is based on "Nurture" & "Nature."

- Nurture, the environment also influences one's Communication Style(s).
- And our DNA wiring ("Nature") also influences our way of communicating.
- So early in life develop a Natural Communication Style of Language.
- This remains constant throughout our life, with very little change.
- There is no need to change that Natural Style.
- One cannot really change it or their Native Language.
- We definitely can learn other Communication Languages and stretch.
- Stretching effectively improves communications with different Styles.
